Step Right Up: How Doc and Jim Key Taught the World About Kindness  * A 2018-19 Texas Bluebonnet Award Master List Title * A horse that can read, write, and do math? Ridiculous! That's what people thought until former slave and self-taught veterinarian Dr. William Key, with his "educated" horse Beautiful Jim Key, proved that, with kindness, anything is possible. Over nine years of exhibiting across the country, Doc and "Jim" broke racial barriers, fueled the humane movement, and inspired millions of people to step right up and choose kindness.	$19 Hardcover Picture Book
Abraham Lincoln's Dueling Words * New Release— Spring 2018 *  Long before he was our beloved president, Abraham Lincoln was known for his smarts and his knee-slapping humor. In 1842, that got him into a heap of trouble. When he clashed with James Shields, a political rival, Lincoln came up with a rascally plan. It was silly. It was clever. It was a great big mistake. Shields challenged Lincoln to a duel! Lincoln would need his wit and a healthy dose of humility to save his career—and even his life. A rare look at the more human side of Abraham Lincoln and how the lessons he learned made him a better man.	$17 Hardcover Picture Book

We are excited to work with the local, independent bookstore, BookPeople, to coordinate our book sales for this event! BookPeople is offering a discounted price to us, which includes sales tax.

Prices are not marked up for any library profit – we are simply passing their discount on to you!
 Thanks for supporting our Author Visit!
